Regret

Icon of Coil

Whatever truth will reveal tomorrow, it's a lie
A cup of poison will always join us for a while
And we'll laugh for a while, and we'll die for a while
And then we'll blame us self for a wild routine
Ground zero, we're back to oneWe can't combineHappy with the life they gave us from day one
What disappears without a trace, reappears and we just approve
What we need is a waist, solutions dissolves in our hands
We won't except that we understand
Destruction completes the manNo matter what time will give us
No matter if it slips away
You should have burned me blind
Now I'm shining throughWe can't combine this city laws
Regret with time, this splintered doors
Even if fear remains tomorrow
Or if everything goes awayWe can't combineShadows merging, people laughing
The sun shines threatening
Concrete tasting, steel avoiding
Love exploiting, hate awakening
Missing, can't hideWe can't combine this city laws
Regret with time, this splintered doors
Even if fear remains tomorrow
Or if everything goes away
