

This One's for the Children

New Kids on the Block

This is a very serious message, so all of you please listen There are some people

Living in this world

They have no food to eat

They have no place to go But we all are God's children

We have to learn to love one another

Just remember, they could be us

Remember, we all are brothersI'm not tryin' to darken up your day

But help others in need

And show them there's a better way This one's for the children

The children of the world

This one's for the children

May God keep them in His throne, hooMany people are happy

And many people are sad

Some people have many things

That others can only wish they hadSo for the sake of the children

Show them love's the only way to go

'Cause they're are tomorrow

And people, they've got to know I'm not tryin' to darken up your day

But help others in need

And show them there's a better way
This one's for the children

The children of the world

This one's for the children

May God keep them in His throneThis one's for the children

The children of the world

This one's for the children

May God keep them in His throneThis one's for the children

This one's for the children

This one's for the children

This one's for the childrenThis one's for the children

This one's for the children

This one's for the children

This one's for the children
