Wake up, get your act together, turn on the altered truth
There is no need to be scared as today is the day of achievementLies are consumed to live this day through
To give us some hope, and hide the hopeless future
Nobody wants us to see through this fake reality
Everyone is scared to learn how many lies can be toldYesterday was worse, tomorrow will be the best
People on this planet shall evolve into a supernatural raceLies are consumed to live this day through
To give us some hope, and hide the hopeless future
Nobody wants us to see through this fake reality
Everyone is scared to learn how many lies can be toldLies are consumed to live this day through
To give us some hope, and hide the hopeless future to come
Altered truth, news filled with joy, reality with fake content
The faceless beings have achieved a total state of self mockeryNobody wants us to see through this fake reality
Everyone is scared to learn how many lies can be told
And how many lies can be sold
