Fairytale

Dawson Coyle

Wants upon a time the end that's how the story goes pretty boring i know tell me about the time you slain the dragon in the snow its hard to know whats fake and whats reality but god knows you could use some clarity

i want to fly, away with you soaring the clouds and sky's so blue just because fairytales arn't real doesn't mean it cant feel that way princess don't you close your eyes just jump and will fly away whoooo ohhh oh whoooo oohhhh oh

how long were you inside that tower i know I'm not a prince, oh darling don't you know Christ was the one who slain the dragon in the snow I'm not the hero here I'm just the story teller but come with me and you could really help me tell it better

magical carpet ride
soaring through the air tonight i promise it'll be alright,as long as you hold on tight

all of god amazing sights, as long as you hold on to Christ
