

It's Not Easy

Hitomi Tohyama

Once again you're trying to find a way
Silent moments tell me what you wanna say
Something has changed, now I'm a stranger to you
A praise at the Lord, "Don't let this be true".

Life now, fragile like a glass, slowly crumbling down
Please make it star:

It's not easy when I still love you so, oh
How can I say goodbye,
Smile and say that It's just a silly joke?
My Darling, before I break down and cry out, please don't turn away
Don't you understand? For me, it's not easy.

In the rain, I cry as I walk alone
Each time headlight shines, it flashes back your love and smile
Softly, the snowflake falls and touches my face
I thought it was the hand of God from above.

Telling me I will survive
Telling me there's time for everything.

It's not easy, but I'll get over you
(First steps I left behind)
Melting in the snow, leaving not a trace
My Darling, everything's cut wide on such a pretty sight
Making all my pain inside, nice and easy
My Darling, before I break down and cry up, please don't turn away
Don't you understand? For me, it's not easy.

Nice and easy, it's not easy
Nice and easy, it's not easy.
