Grown Ups (Demo)

Mitch Gardner

Remember those days,
When we were so young
We thought that nothing could hurt us
Or come in between.

But times havenâ€™t changed
And now were grown ups
How so our age can deceive â€˜Cause we are still young
And naÃ¯ve

And the weight got heavier
On our shoulders,
And weâ€™ve lost
And we have loved
But have we learnt

â€˜Cause we smoke our cigarettes
And get tattoos
We were taught algebra in school
But not how to live
Thatâ€™s up to you.

Do you recall?
What you once told me
You said youâ€™d always be there
Was that a lie?

â€˜Cause now youâ€™re gone
Without saying goodbye
I know that itâ€™s not what you wanted
But you were in pain

And I
I will always look up to you
In the sky
And even on the cloudiest day
You are my sun
Holding my arm

â€˜Cause you smoked your cigarettes
And got one tattoo
We were taught algebra in school
But not how to live
Thatâ€™s up to you
