Dressed to Kill

Landon Pigg

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Are you wondering
Wondering if I like you?
Or are you wondering
If I care at all'Cause all that you're getting
All that you're getting is glances
And if you're lucky, a stareI know I feed your desires
To wear red lipstick and be dressed for the kill
Yeah, I know I feed your desires
Cause now you're murdering my soulSo you take off your glasses
And highlight your lashes
And it's the beginning of a sad song
You lower your collar, I start to notice
And it's the beginning of a sad sad songWell, I know I feed your desires
To wear red lipstick and be dressed for the kill
Yeah, I know I feed your desires
'Cause now you're murdering my soulWhat have I created?
A criminal with good intentions
And all that you wanted was love
But I didn't notice and look where that got us
Well, I've become shallow and still you
Have no trace of the very thing that you wantedI know I feed your desires
To wear red lipstick and be dressed for the kill
Yeah, I know I feed your desires
'Cause now you're murdering my soulI know I feed your desires
To wear red lipstick and be dressed for the kill
I'm sorry I fed those desires
Because I've been murdering your soul
