Rush Together

Quietdrive

They grew up in the same old town
Never knowing the other was around
Read from the same damn books
Never caught each others looks
But one day the sun will shine
I know
For their eyes have told me so
Chasing advice from those who say I've lost my mind(Chorus)
Rush together
To find each other
Now it's too late
You can never wait for luck
Together playing the same instrument
That you still can't hear at all.So that's how the story goes, so far
I'll tell you the rest, but now
I'm tired of what I think
A situation where I can't sing
But I hate the vagrant life
I know
Nothing has been more told, 'til now
Living my life after those who say I've lost my mindRush together
To find each other
Now it's too late
You can never wait for luck
Together playing the same instrument
That you still can't hear at all.So what do you say?
So what do you say?
Can we turn this clock back
Thirteen years and relate?
I won't mind, can we stay
But isn't it fate?
But isn't it fate?
That we spill our guts out
On this very day?
I don't mind
I want to
I want to
StayChorusAre you listening at all?
Are you listening at all?
