

Sunshine (That Acid Summer)

Everclear

You roll and tumble
With your big heart falling
You roll and tumble alone You reach forever
With your dirty hands holding
You reach for something you will never know I heard you singing
In a taco bell bathroom
I heard you singing a cheap trick song We sang surrender
All the way to county line When I listen to that song now
It makes me think of summertime That acid summer
We were wasted and happy
We were laughing in the sunshine You twist and turn
With your bright eyes shining
You twist and turn in the California sun You wait forever
For the life that you dream of
You wait for something that will never come You twist and turn in a slow motion day dream
You twist and turn in your own sweet hell I don't get so close to the fire anymore
But when I think about you now
It makes me think of summertime That acid summer
We were wasted and happy
We were laughing in the sunshine Laughing in the sunshine
In the sunshine You twist and turn
With your bright eyes shining
You twist and turn in the California sun You wait forever
For the life that you dream of
You wait for something that will never come
Never ever come You twist and turn in a slow motion free fall
You twist and turn in your own good time I can't watch you twisting and turning and turning anymore
You know I never thought a good time
Would turn into a lifestyle
I just can't watch it anymore But when I think about that summertime
It always seems to make me smile Yeah that acid summer
We were wasted and happy
We were laughing in the sunshine Go We were laughing in the sunshine Go
