

I Know There's Someone Else

New Riders of the Purple Sage

Markowski I cannot love you if I do not love myself
How can you love me ? I know there's someone else. I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else. Let my brother take you home, say you want to be all alone
Fell asleep on the sofa last night, left my door wide open, didn't turn out the lights. I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else. Woke up this morning, found her in my bed
I thought she was my girl, she was someone else's instead.
I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else. I cannot love you if I do not love myself
How can you love me ? I know there's someone else. I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else. I think about you, you think about him
He thinks about her and nobody wins
I think about you, you think about him
He thinks about her and nobody wins. I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else.
I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else
I know there's someone else.
I know there's someone else.
