

You Don't Know Me

The Polyphonic Spree

It's time to jump in
It's time to let go Don't let the people think they know you
They don't know
You move around, you say goodbye to them
There's always more to you than there are of them Keep yourself high
Don't keep yourself low
It's easy to forget what you came here for when you get old There's always someone there to bring you down again
There's always more to you than there are of them Hey, hey, you don't know me
Hey, hey, you don't know me
Hey, hey, you don't know me
Hey, hey, you don't know me I know you will hide
When I'm around Hey, hey, you don't know me
Hey, hey, you don't know me There's always someone there to bring you down again
There's always more to you than there are of them I know you will hide
When I'm around
I know you will hide
When I'm around Watch them follow you all around Watch them follow you all around
