

Lighthouse

Betraying the Martyrs

My life was falling through the holes
I'd cut behind me
You caught it all, you love me despite me
Falling through the holes I'd cut behind me
You caught it all, you love me despite me
Touch the surface, open me up
It's an ugly truth that I keep inside
Skeletons and demons I have struggled to hide
Now there's a mirror that I hold with me
That I hold so close
My reflection, a portrayal
The only beauty I have inside
You lit me up, stood me tall
I'll be your lighthouse and shine for you
I'll stand tall, eyes open wide
I'll be your lighthouse, watch out for you
When I'm falling down and I'm falling apart
It's you that picks me up
And pumps blood to my heart
You sew the patches that keep me together
My life was falling, falling apart
Falling, falling apart
You lit me up, stood me tall
I'll be your lighthouse and shine for you
I'll stand tall, eyes open wide
I'll be your lighthouse, watch out for you
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>