Thunder and Lightning

Meredith Brooks

The trees are thin and the sky is gray
I watch the rain fallin' on L.A.
Hey, I'm thinkin' of youI don't know if I've lost or gained
But I know I'll never be the same
Hey, it's a little like, yeah, just a little likeThunder and lightning
Thunder and lightning
Striking my heart again
Thunder and lightningSteamy midnights on the phone
You're telling me you're all alone
Then you say, "I'd like to see you"I hear your voice and I'm hypnotized
I don't care if it's truth or lies
Hey, it's a little like, yeah, just a little likeThunder and lightning
Thunder and lightning
Striking my heart again
Thunder and lightningOh, is it pleasure or pain?
Is the thunder just frightening?
Is this the way love begins?
When you're kissing me
It's like thunder and lightningThunder and lightning
Thunder and lightning
Striking my heart again
Thunder and lightningThunder and lightning
Striking my heart
Burning my soul
Thunder and lightning
