

Valentine

I Draw Slow

Everybody hears you singing at the bar but none ever hears you crying in my arms oh I can't tell you baby its all gonna be alright wouldn't lie, wouldn't lie to you my friend cause now we're getting near the endEverybody loves the sin when you're the sinner and they all play the loser to your winner
cause now we're getting near the endSmall world just got bigger anybody else woulda pulled that trigger but oh its my hearts on the line and all you ever share with me is your troubled mind
oh valentine oh valentine oh valentine Told you not to come back home like this again but now I haven't seen you round since I don't know when and you think I woulda learned a lot from loving you to brazen it out not a word not a word of this is new your just doing what you always doeverybody hears you singing at the bar but they don't wait to find out who you are oh if they got closer baby, its not hard to figure it out
not a word not a word of this is new your just doing what you always dosmall world just got bigger anybody else woulda pulled that trigger
but oh its my hearts on the line
small world just got bigger
but oh its my hearts on the line
oh valentine oh valentine oh valentine
oh valentine oh valentine oh valentine
oh valentine oh valentine oh valentine
