

The Whole World

Clan Dyken

Now iv'e had the time to think,
I realize were on the brink,
Of a deep dark ??????
Look at all the time we've missed

Shadows moan and groan,
A son so far from home,
Aches and pains of men,
Disasters come again.

Take us to another place,
Were we don't have to think,
A far away magic land,
Were we can just smoke and drink. (hey hey, O ya!!)

I've got to much on my mind,
Makes me think we're out if time,
But howlin' at the moon (oou oou!!)
Helps me think we're Just to soon

And my tears, keep on fallin' (FALLIN')
As our fears keep on marchin' us to war,
And desert sands, keep on blowin'
Closer and closer,
As our gardens were destroyin'
The gardens of Eden

Again i realize,
Again to my surprise
A fate has beguiled us
To a place we're meant to be

To underscore this point, i presently uphold
The current state we're in
And the pain of of this inner war
But soon we will arise

And brush off these dusty eyes
And transform the pain we're in
And make our lives again

The painting guides us to A place we're we can choose a better way then the one that brought us to this low

And my tears, keep on fallin' (FALLIN')
As our fears keep on marchin' us to war,
And desert sands, keep on blowin'
Closer and closer,
As our gardens were destroyin'
The gardens of Eden

And i see the whole world
As one Country
And all humanity, as one Family
And any where I go,
And anyone I know
Each on is a brother,
A sister or a mother
