

Lost and Broken

Rosie Doonan

Too far gone to say, said it anyway
Now these words forever free
Kept the feeling tamed, behind walls you made
Now these thoughts forever free

I hold on to you, do you hold on to me?
Tried to give a little love to you, just enough to see us through
Now you're lost and broken
Though the world keep spinning round,
I keep one foot on the ground
Now you're lost and broken.

Feel the paths we take, love is here to stay
Gone but not forgotten
We rise from it all, we won't speak or fall
Gone but not forgotten

If I hold on to you, would you hold on to me?
If I hold on to you, will you hold on to me?

Tried to give a little love to you, just enough to see us through
Now you're lost and broken
Though the world keep spinning round,
I keep one foot on the ground
Now you're lost and broken

Tried to give a little love to you, just enough to see us through
Now you're lost and broken
Though the world keep spinning round,
I keep one foot on the ground
Now you're lost and broken.
