

As Long As You Don't Come Back

Justin Currie

Well, I'm talking to myself not you so don't get mad
?Cause I need a friend who won't talk back
And he is letting me finally see some sense
And I know I should be mending fences
But why would I do that?
When I won't feel alone as long as you don't come back

And I know that you'll be picking through the bones of me
Trying to find a heart of stone
Well, if it's there throw it at my picture
?Cause I know I should be building bridges
But why would I do that?
When I won't feel alone as long as you don't come back

Don't come back
Don't come ?round crying
Whatever the angle
I ain't buying
Whatever the accent you've been trying

So I'm talking to myself not you and it ain't so bad
At least I don't put myself down
And sometimes I even sound like you
And I know I should be making amends
But why would I do that?
When I won't feel alone
I won't feel alone
No, I won't feel alone - as long as you don't come back

Lyrics submitted by Bethany.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>