

See U In The Dark

Honor Society

You were always the girl
Who would give me girl advice whenever I needed it
My best friend in the world
My friends said you were fine but I was always denying it Then one summer day I saw you laying by your swimming pool
And I was thinking, damn, you really changed
You're not the quiet girl I used to know
You opened up my eyes
I see you walk across my room in nothing but the moonlight
Now I love to see you in the dark, see you in the dark
My window frames you like a Monet, don't come back to bed yet
'Cause I love to see you in the dark, see you in the dark
I see you in the, in the dark, dark
I'll never see you the same
The veil has been lifted, now I see you're gifted
My whole perspective has changed
Don't think I can go back 'cause I will always desire it Don't take another step near me just in case we have regrets
If tomorrow we go back to being friends
I'll think about the way you looked tonight, yeah
So turn off all the lights
I see you walk across my room in nothing but the moonlight
Now I love to see you in the dark, see you in the dark
My window frames you like a Monet, don't come back to bed yet
'Cause I love to see you in the dark, see you in the dark
I see you in the, in the dark, dark
Maybe if you were someone else it wouldn't have to be like this I'm wondering how you feel about me now
Or was it just a friendly kiss?
'Cause I'm seeing you for the first time
She pulls me closer to her body as she whispers softly
"Turn the lights out
See you in the dark, see you in the dark"
I see you walk across my room in nothing but the moonlight
Now I love to see you in the dark, see you in the dark
My window frames you like a Monet, don't come back to bed yet
'Cause I love to see you in the dark, see you in the dark
