Edenecho

Kamelot

First you said that you would never leave me Merry were my days Then you told me life is never easy And left without a trace But how come I want you Like the soil yearns for the rain Won't you light up, won't you light up my life Let my soul breathe Tell me wrong tell me right You're my mind cage Like a mountain far away You were always there Dressed in summer white You will never know how much I miss you Im open to my fear Find the maze, I'll make my way through Enter if you dare How, how come I want you

Like the soil yearns for the rain Won't you light up, won't you light up my life Let my soul breathe Tell me wrong tell me right You're my mind cage Like a mountain far away You were always there Dressed in summer white Remember my name And paint the darkness with your light We'll sing you a song for all broken hearted Like edenechos in my head Then you're forgiven, gave you way Won't you light up, won't you light up my life Let my soul breathe Tell me wrong tell me right You're my mind cage Like a mountain far away You were always there Dressed in summer white
