

Perfect Stranger

Midnight Cinema

All my life I've been searching
Not for fame or fortune, for someone
To tell me where this story ends
Then you come out of nowhere
Your sad eyes and your long hair
I swear I was all but ready to give in
You're just a perfect stranger
When you walked right into my life
Who am I to explain it
The moment our spinning worlds collide
Come back, make me believe that
Some things happen for a reason
When the stars align in the sky
Don't tell me it's a lie
I was lost when you found me
Like a prisoner I held the key
And no one but myself could set me free
You give me something
To live for
I walked right
Through the open door
You're the only thing I really know for sure
You're just a perfect stranger
When you walked right into my life
Who am I to explain it
The moment our spinning worlds collide
Come back, make me believe that
Some things happen for a reason
When the stars align in the sky
Don't tell me it's a lie
Come back, you can call it what you will
There's no mistaking this drive is for real
I found my truth in your eyes
Don't tell me it's a lie
(You're just a perfect stranger)
You're just a perfect stranger
Come back, make me believe that
Some things happen for a reason
When the stars align in the sky

Don't, don't tell me
Come back, make me believe that
Some things happen for a reason
When the stars align in the sky
Don't tell me it's a lie
Call it fate, you can call it what you will
There's no mistaking this drive is for real
I found my truth in your eyes
Don't tell me it's a lie
Don't tell me it's a lie
I found my truth in your eyes
Don't tell me it's a lie

Lyrics submitted by Brayton Rogers.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>