Georgia Rain

Joshua Kadison

When all my dreams are fallin' on stony ground
And I start wonderin' why I'm even around
Can't find the sunshine anywhere
Jessie puts her arms around me
And runs her fingers through my hair, yeahAnd Jessie sings soft as the Georgia rain
Coming down easy on a windowpane
And Jessie sings warm as a late night summer breeze
Hummin' some faraway tune to the willow treesAnd life is everything God meant it to be
When Jessie's singing soft as the Georgia rain to meShe calls me angel and says, "Let me dry your eyes
You mean by now you still don't realize
That everything I want is what I got
So angel stop your thinkin' 'bout all the things you're not"And Jessie sings soft as the Georgia rain
Coming down easy on a windowpane
Jessie sings warm as a late night summer breeze
Hummin' some faraway tune to the willow treesAnd life is everything God meant it to be
When Jessie's singing soft as the Georgia rain to meThere's a trailer by the sea down in Mexico
We dreamt a lot about it but we never did go
Some dreams are better from afar
That's just how things are and everything's all right'Cause Jessie's singing me to sleep tonight
Jessie's singing me to sleep tonightAnd Jessie sings soft as the Georgia rain
Coming down easy on a windowpane
Jessie sings warm as a late night summer breeze
Hummin' some faraway tune to the willow treesAnd life is everything God meant it to be
When Jessie's singing soft as the Georgia rain to me
When Jessie's singing soft as the Georgia rain to me
