Infadels

so what
so fuck what
so what
if i stay up late enough
something might happen
and if i drink just enough
i may be happy
if i think just enough
i'll see that nothing really matters
something might happen
to be to try
the girls and guys
to see to cry
as we watch them fry
to flee goodbye
while the innocent try
the plea the sigh
try and indemnify
with dignity and thought crucify the lot
the bought and sold

unraveling the knot
all boiling cold
smoldering in rot
the stories been told
although we forgot
there has to be something there has to be someone out there
there has to be a answer a prescription a prayer
something might happen
i may be happy
if i think just enough

so what
