

Sing Me A Song

Bread, Love And Dreams

Sing me a song that will last a year long, with words that are happy and free
Make me a tune that will reach to the moon and down to the deeper sea
And down to the deeper sea

Light that is bright will light the dim night with candles I burn for you
Give me a sign that youâ€™ve reached peace of mind and you know my loveâ€™s honest and true

Pick me a flower that will tell me the hour and the day will end in a sigh Night will come on, on the wings of a song and my thoughts will drift peacefully by. My thoughts will drift peacefully by.

Spin me a thread that Iâ€™ll throw to the dead to hide my conscience away
Build me a boat on the sound of a note that will drown in the voice of today

Sing me a song that will last a year long with words that are happy and free
Make me a tune that will reach to the moon and down to the deeper sea
And down to the deeper sea
