Stop Breathing

Element 101

Before I blinked something fell next to me
It looked like heaven but I swallowed it down
It changed the color of my eyes
They draw your lines and pull your feet up in timeStop thinking, do you think you will make it?
Do you think you just might stop breathing?
Confession of obsession
Hush now, you're still breathingI'm in the middle of my midnight calling
I've yet to find a spot I'm comfortable in
I feel you breaking, my insomnia burning
A solo image taking root in my bonesStop thinking, do you think you will make it?
Do you think you just might stop breathing?
Confession of obsession
Hush now, you're still breathingTake control 'cause I know how to steal the show
Take control, I think I know
Take control 'cause I know how to steal the show
Take control, I think I know, yeahYou picked a flower, a flower picked you
It's no surprise, still you shimmer with pride
Lips close, breathe your breath inside
I, I shatter, still my heart is breathing aliveStop thinking, do you think you will make it?
Do you think you just might stop breathing?
Confession of obsession
Hush now, you're still breathing againStop thinking, do you think you will make it?
Do you think you just might stop breathing?
Confession of obsession
Hush now, you're still breathing
