

American Girl

Wasted Potential

I'm watchin' day time TV
I'm young and I'm restless
    I'm on no sunset beach
I'm burnin' up in here in Texas
    Paranoia on day street
        Not enough to eat
    Too many burgers and these fries
        Are makin' me crazy
    It's kinda strange growin' up here
        Never less safe but don't be afraid
        You gotta take what you get here
    'Cause nobodies gonna change their ways
        Many places to travel in this world
    No matter where I go I'm an American girl
        This Disney World's your underworld
    Try to escape it just face it you American girl
        We all have the same dream
        We wake up on a reality series
            In a taxi cab confessing
        We're having to much 'Sex in the City'
    With our pre-paid cellular phones we call apartment homes
        By the time we're 14 yeah were already grown
    Where we'll end up from here well we don't really care
        Well we tear up every thing, we still love to be here
        Many places to travel in this world
    No matter where I go I'm an American girl
        Is this Disney Worlds your underworld
    Try to escape it just face it you American girl
        Many places to travel in this world
    No matter where I go I'm an American girl
        Is this Disney Worlds your underworld
    Try to escape it just face it you American girl
        From hooters to looters
        We're drowning in beer
        Your ruder I'm cruder
        Your blurred and I'm clear
        Your not helping me here
    'Cause we're living in fear
        I'm not judging you

But I'll push you and push you
Many places to travel in this world
No matter where I go I'm an American girl
Is this Disney Worlds your underworld
Try to escape it just face it you American girl
Many places to travel in this world
No matter where I go I'm an American girl
Is this Disney Worlds your underworld
Try to escape it just face it you American girl
