

Your Stare (Saxophone Instrumental)

Steve Ryan

Your stare I can see
Is as beautiful as the trees
That bloom in the spring
And blossom from the rain
Your eyes are like the sea
They fill the life in me
I can lose myself
When I see you stare Because you are, a dream to me
I want to show you love, through eternity
Because you are, the sun in my sky
I want to show you, love through all time
And I'll give up everything, this very moment
To stare in your eyes, your eyes You were my fantasy
You're now my reality
Your gaze is so amazing
I hear just what it's saying
You're the river that flows through me
It makes my heart beat
I know you really care
When you give me your stare Because you are, a dream to me
I want to show you love, through eternity
Because you are, the sun in my sky
I want to show you love, through all of time
And I'll give up everything, this very moment
To stare in your eyes, your eyes The meaning of perfection
It lies within you
The touch of true affection
Comes from every thing you do
Your heart is in your eyes
I can tell it's deep inside
That's why I get, so lost
In your stare Because you are, a dream to me
I want to show you love, through eternity
Because you are, the sun in my sky
I want to show you love, through all of time
And I'll give up everything, this very moment
To stare in your eyes, your eyes Because you are, a dream to me
I want to show you love, through eternity
Because you are, the sun in my sky

And I want to show you love, through all of time
And I'll give up everything, in this moment
To stare in your eyes, your eyes (eyes)
Your eyes
