

Cross Your Mind

George Howard

There's a warm breeze blowing outside my window, tonight
And the faint sound of music down the hall, sure is nice
As I listen to the words I'm feeling,
It puts me in, a lovers mood
You belong with the sweetest thoughts of you, and me together
It makes me wonder

Do I ever cross your mind
Do you long to have me near, to you
Do I ever cross your mind
'Cause I want to have you here right now, with me

Here I am, smiling at the memories, in my head
Thinking of the way you laugh at something
That I've said
When your lovin' arms, embrace me,
I feel such a sensitivity
It makes me wonder

Do I ever cross your mind
Do you long to have me near, to you
Do I ever cross your mind
'Cause I want to have you here right now, with me

I just want to be, what you outta be
An oasis in your mind,
And fill your thoughts with love
That brings an easeness to your life
In time, in time, in time, in time

It makes me wonder
Do I ever cross your mind
Do you long to have me near, to you
Do I ever cross your mind
'Cause I want to have you here with me
Do I ever cross your mind
Do you long to have me near, to you
Do I ever cross your mind
