

Home Is In My Head

Anouk

I have drunk Virginia water
I have dug my own gravesend
Set my foot ashore in new port
Traveled far beyond my lands end And home, home, home
Home is in my head I have dived into a black pool
With a maid stone around my neck
I just drifted into the South Sea
With no hull beyond my deck And home, home, home
Home is in my head Well I have lost a wheel in barrow
Try to cross the no one Cambridge
When my Liverpool grew shallow
Had to dig more wells in Turnbridge And home, home, home
Home is in my head, is in my head
Home is in my head, is in my head
Home is in my head, it's in my head
It's in my head, in my head
