

Fearless

Falling Up

When you see your breath in the frozen night
When your hope is on the guard
Theres a rushing breath, theres a new design
When the poison fills your heartBroken from the shattered hopes
And breathless from the stare
Standing in this phony room
I can see you thereLights from the waters have swept me away
So say your goodbyes now, this will say
Drink from the water that swept me away
So say your goodbyes now, this will sayLet the tide pull and the neon lights
Let them spill across this place
Like a deepened hole from your glossy eyes
Theres a flame that marks the raceBroken from the shattered hopes
And breathless from the stare
Standing in this phony room
I can see you thereLights from the waters have swept me away
So say your goodbyes now, this will say
Drink from the water that swept me away
So say your goodbyes now, this will sayCan you hear, whispering aside
Dream the fear, are you listening?Lights from the waters have swept me away
So say your goodbyes now, this will say
Drink from the water that swept me away
So say your goodbyes now, this will sayDrink from the water that swept me away
So say your goodbyes now, this will say
