Love In A Foreign Place

Gossip

I put my make up on and
Head for the other side of town
With my dress from the night before
Fearing the comedown
Outside a sea, of people forming
Walking after work this morning
They look like through me as I?m passing by
Not even so much as an evil eye
The sea speak to you
So much to live for, so much to loose
The end is coming, beginning is here
Anything you look for, you?ll find it here
I can love in a foreign place
I could stay forever
It?s my time, it?s now or never
I?ve been so many places
Nowhere could ever turn me down
All I ever wanted was so much more
Than life in a small town
I find it hard to hide my feelings
Looking down to ancient buildings
Looking down on me towering above

Time was standing still as we fell in love
The sea speak to you
So much to live for, so much to loose
The end is coming, beginning is here
Anything you look for, you?ll find it here
I can love in a foreign place
I could stay forever
It?s my time, it?s now or never
I?ve had love at the world was ending
Not getting younger
I feel the life, taking over
So much to live for, so much to loose
So much to live for, so much to loose
I?ve been so many places
Nowhere could ever tear me down
All I ever wanted was so much more

Than life in a small town
I can love in a foreign place
I could stay forever
It?s my time, it?s now or never
I?ve had love at the world was ending
Not getting younger
I feel the life, taking over.
