

At Home In the Wasteland

Down By Law

you're looking around trying not to notice that things are really falling down everywhere we go
we see the signs there and I don't see it coming round
will I ever know
a brighter future staying here
all of the promises from years ago but as we grew we know they're far from here
will we ever know
a brighter future
or see a 1,000 points of light just all the talking of politicians who never seem to get it right
will I ever know
but as we grew we knew it's far from here
far from here . . .
sometimes I get so wound up
I want to take my mind
I want to get away
but everywhere I look I know it's the same as yesterday
will we ever know
a brighter future?
