Made for TV

Last Winter

Wake up, this is your last lullaby
Found out just what you're saying
Your friends have all been telling me
That they've always liked me betterYou don't have to lie to me anymore
Because I already do it for you
And I already do it for youYou call me just to yell it out
The words you couldn't live without
It's something you wouldn't know
You call me just to scream it out
But I'm not the one to write it out
It's something you wouldn't knowI woke up on your best friend's couch
Nice guys never kiss and tell
It's kinda funny how you're always telling me
What goes around always comes aroundAnd it comes aroundYou don't have to lie to me anymore
Because I already do it for you
And I already do it for youYou call me just to yell it out
The words you couldn't live without
It's something you wouldn't know
You call me just to scream it out
But I'm not the one to write it out
It's something you wouldn't knowAnd I want this so bad
You know I want this so bad
But it's just not what you wantedYou call it, you write it
I couldn't deny it
I couldn't just write this outWhen you wake up just save it
It's something you wouldn't knowYou call me just to yell it out
The words you couldn't live without
It's something you wouldn't know
You call me just to scream it out
But I'm not the one to write it out
It's something you wouldn't knowI won't stay with you in this momentI won't stay with you in this moment
