

Love Today

Judith Hill

Today could be the day
The lights will flash before your eyes
So this better be the day you learn to love again. Today could be the day
The stars come falling through the sky
And you're standing in the rain,
Standing in the rain, singing:[scat] Today could be the day
You see that old familiar face
Smiling and laughing, one last time. Today could be the day
You feel that sweet and warm embrace
'Cause everybody's here,
Everybody's here . . . Don't waste another precious minute
Love today
You gotta lo-lo-love today
Know that you will never regret it
So love today
You gotta lo-lo-love today. Today could be the day
When day will shine throughout the night
And you're standing all together, hand in hand. Today could be the day
We join the river of lights
Flowing all together,
Flowing all together, singing:[scat] Don't waste another precious minute
Love today
You gotta lo-lo-love today
Know that you will never regret it
So love today
You gotta lo-lo-love today. Today could be the day
The lights will flash before your eyes
So this better be the day you learn to love again.
