

Tibet

Rose McDowall

Daybreak is catching me now
And you have gone away
I don't want you to go
But can't ask you to stay I wish I could change you mind
But wishes sometimes die
It is hard for me to smile
When roses bleed to cry And slip into another daydream Loki is holding you now
Under the moon above
If a whisper could fly
I'd fly to you my love
I wish I could change you mind
But wishes sometimes die
It is hard for me to smile
When roses bleed to cry And slip into another daydream When I'm alone I think of you
In northern skies I think of you
And when it snows I think of you Don't turn your back on me now
As Rose is bleed to cry
When I close my eyes to dream
I close my dreams to die I wish I could change you mind
But wishes sometimes die
It is hard for me to smile
When roses bleed to cry And slip into another daydream
I wish I could change you mind
But wishes sometimes die
It is hard to me to smile
When roses bleed to cry

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>