Runaway

Iration

I know you want it bad
The best you never had
You better set yourself free
Before it's too late and anyone can seeYou're coming round just to get another round not where you wanna be you're running round just to get the run around gonna blow your heart away oh you got it down oh you're going down... you better run run run awayAddicted to the game
It's driving you insane
I've watched it pull you in
You got to know you're never gonna win
You're out somewhere and you're lost in the dark and you don't know why
You're looking for something to light your way but you just can't find
I see you're caught up in the chase but you're getting left behind
Let it go and say goodbye
