Ferry to Dublin

Stu Larsen

I'm on the ferry to dublin
And I'm writing you a letter
and I don't know what I want to say
I just want to know you're all right
You said farewell on a Monday
On a boat in Newington and
Now you're in London
You're packing your bags to go home..homeNow, my heart is aching & I
Can't work out why &
It feels like I'm breaking for you, I'm breaking for you, I'm breaking for you
You said you'd see me in Australia
So that's where I will go and
Maybe when I'll see you
I'll feel like I've found my homeNow my heart is aching & I Can't work out why and
It feels like I'm breaking for you
My heart is aching
And I don't want to know why
It feels like I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for youNow I'm on a train to belfast
And I threw away your letter
I'm on the ferry to dublin
And I'm writing you a letter
and I don't know what I want to say
I just want to know you're all right
You said farewell on a Monday
On a boat in Newington and
Now you're in London
You're packing your bags to go home..homeNow, my heart is aching & I
Can't work out why &
It feels like I'm breaking for you, I'm breaking for you, I'm breaking for you
You said you'd see me in Australia

So that's where I will go and
Maybe when I'll see you
Can't work out why and
It feels like I'm breaking for you
My heart is aching
It feels like I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for you
I'm breaking for youNow I'm on a train to Belfast
And I threw away your letter
