

One Last Time

Indecision

cast me into darkness and rob me of all prosperity turn myself against myself try and recreate me are you obsessed with possession or possessed by obsession drained absolute, still I bleed screaming silent, still I bleed take me for what I'm worth and let me disintegrate in your arms, one last time let me die where I always wanted to die so I break this glass with such intent with hopes to erase all I never wanted to forget bleed me inside out with your eyes as I walk through your lies one last time (bleed me) you're gonna need more to destroy
