

Face the Sun

James Blunt

Yes, this love's not good enough
It's time to let it go
Our weary hearts just fall apart
I feel it in my bones And God knows
That it's hard to find the one
But in time
All the flowers turn to face the sun So silently just walk with me
Like any other day
No sad goodbyes, no tears, no lies
Just go our separate ways And God knows
That it's hard to find the one
But in time, all the flowers
Yes in time
All the flowers turn to face the sun Yeah, you say what you say
Then you do it to me anyway
You do what you do
Then you walk away, you walk away
You say what you say
Then you do it to me anyway
You do what you do
Yeah, I know, it's true And God knows
That it's hard to find the one
But in time
All the flowers
Yes in time, all the flowers
Turn to face the sun
