Better Half

Anthony Green

She never has a lot to say
Any time I try,
Any time I try to keep her awake at night
She always wants to hear me sing
Like telling her a story
Says it helps her relax and unwindNo one ever gets my better half
Know that she will always be
No one ever gets my better half but me
Every time that I'm away
She has to stay home
Chasing after babies all alone
And all I ever have to do
Any time I'm anxious
Imagine that I'm with her
And I'm no longer blueNo one ever gets my better half
Know that she will always be
No one ever gets my better half but me
(You're always in my head
You have been there from the start)No one ever gets my better half
Know that she will always be
No one ever gets my better half but me
