

As Angels Spying Mars

Helalyn Flowers

I'm from a distant sky
Few steps to feel the surface
They told me "it is impossible to reach"
But I'm here
There's nothing more to find
To give me an answer
But I feel so empty
In this endless Space
(This endless Space)Are you ready?
To float in this Space?
There's not the need of a role to play
And now do you still believe
That we're all alone in the Universe?
(Ask to the stars...as angels spying Mars)Are you ready
To float in this Space?
There's not the need of a role to play
And now do you still believe
That we're just the ones in the Universe?
(Ask to the stars...as angels spying Mars)The only place I found
Where nothing seems pretending
They told me
"it is impossible to find life there"
So proud that I have tried
I've found another answer
No more I feel so empty
In this endless Space
(This endless Space)Are you ready
To float in this Space?
There's not the need of a role to play
And now do you still believe
That we're all alone in the Universe?
(Ask to the stars...as angels spying Mars)Are you ready
To float in this Space?
There's not the need of a role to play
And now do you still believe
That we're just the ones in the Universe?
(Ask to the stars...as angels spying Mars)Here there is no time
And there isn't pain
There's nothing to fight

And there is nothing to change
Nothing insignificant
