Disconnector

Snapcase

surrender now or disconnect, shes lost herself, her self respect shes head in hands and she knows that shes slipping her time is now and alone is real too short of breath, too numb to feel and she knows that shes sinking, sinking nows your time to face your fears you have to make a leap of faith he disassembles her, a cloud hangs over her so toughen up, its time to hear you out tears may fall, but youll save yourself and nows your time, to face your fears you have to make a leap of faith, and time may heal she'll die for him, and he gives her nothing he'll lie to her, and she gives him everything take, take, take break, break, break

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/