Epidemic

Diluvian

Is it such a crime to be a paradigm?
So many people have to think it's just a waste of time
But the truth is, the truth is a lieIt's a sign of the changing times
Kinda feelin' like it's time for me to climb, me to rhyme
While I'm fightin' for the lost in the meantimeI don't be goin' at it part time, lookin' for the prime time
People have to think it's just a pastime
But in the same way I thought it really [Incomprehensible]We're in the middle of an outbreak
It's no joke just high stakes
Well, there's an epidemic goin' on
So be wise and decide to changeIt's a hard concept to grasp
When you're playing with fire and you keep throwin' on gas
Eventually you'll get burned with a big blastWe stand fast withstanding the whiplash we make it last
And raise our colors to the top of the mast
Because the sands filling fast in the hourglassSo unmask and forget your past, stay on path
The world's labeled you as an outcast
Well, here's a newsflash you'll never see teeth gnashWe're in the middle of an outbreak
It's no joke just high stakes
Well, there's an epidemic goin' on
So be wise and decide to changeI feel what's real in my mind inside
I feel what's real in my mind insideWe're in the middle of an outbreak
It's no joke just high stakes
Well, there's an epidemic goin' on
So be wise and decide to changeWe're in the middle of an outbreak
It's no joke just high stakes
You can't escape what seeks you out
You can't escape what seeks you out
Well, there's an epidemic goin' on
So be wise and decide to changeWell, there's an epidemic goin' on
Well, there's an epidemic goin' on
Well, there's an epidemic goin' on
Well, there's an epidemic goin' on
