

Sledge-Hammered Heart

Totalselfhatred

No more dreams to fulfill in this life that holds still I have lost the light in my life Why cant I see it was all a dream have I lived in a lie that I made myselfAll the lies behind my smiles they say that true love never dies... but you will...
All that we shared feels like a lie I wish that I could turn back time to the point when it all was fineLet me be a part of this dream all that we used to be I am all alone when it all falls apart no one to catch when I fall
All the dreams have faded away in a world where love has ceased to exist Take my heart and let me die just take my heart but let me die
