

Endless Hope

Tabea

I see your face, see your smile.
In my dreams, every night you are in my mind.
Feel your hands, hear your laughter,
taste your smell and your lips on mine.

I have told you to go.
I was not strong enough to stand by your side.
Now my heart, it is broken-
`cause of loneliness,
`cause of sorrow deep inside.

I can't go into the past.
Don't know why, why I have gone my own way.
Now too late I realize:
I want you back,
want you back by my side.

Wanna run to you,
but there are shackles on my feet.
And now I realize,
the only chance I have:
is to let my heart flow to you,
because you have to know that I love you so.
Yes, that is really true.

There's no time,
there's no place,
there's no chance "for us now."
But there is hope that gives me strength.

May the Lord, our God, be with you all the time.
I pray that every step you take the sun will shine.
Wish that every star you see in the night
tells you: I'm waiting!
That's what you need to know!

I have faith and hope and the biggest love of all.
The time will come someday to stay together with you.
