Mud

Richard Buckner

Be careful where you lie down, boy
In this bed of roses
Promises of petals, then
You wake up on the other endLove is such a monster, kid
And power is addictive
Sweet fire and beauty'll turn this city flat
And could you really handle thatI thought I was through with living once
But, lord, the way she lies there breathing
In the deepest hour of the night
Unraveled, opened full and all undone byAnd last night we capped the cavern, dear
We said the word and we're goin' down
Honey you pulled out the big blue
And you kissed it all through
