Everything

Black Buddafly

Is it just because you like me that I wanna be where you be
Is it the way you tell me goodbye that whenever you go I wanna follow
Is it the way your eyes blink or the way you tie your shoe strings
Or what you talk about could it be more to what and its right now
Tell me, is it the way you tease me by looking hot so easily
Is it the way you wear your pants low that makes me wanna get down with you,
I dont know what it is
Could be the voice I hear when you say Baby girl you make my day better
When we are together, are we meant for each otherAnd I dont know what it is that makes me wonder
Boy I guess its everything
I look at you and it makes me wonder
Why I just like everything
Cause everything you do and everything you say
Its like I cannot find anything that aint right
They say it must be something but I just like everythingIs it the way youre not trying and still you always keep me smiling
The side of you that can be so tough or your innocent kisses I cant get enough
Is it you calling in the morning saying Baby Im falling back asleep
That makes me wanna keep you forever, no doubt, it aint no one betterAnd I dont know what it is that makes me wonder
Boy I guess its everything
I look at you and it makes me wonder
Why I just like everything
Cause everything you do and everything you say
Its like I cannot find anything that aint right
They say it must be something but I just like everythingAnd Oh I love how you comfort me
Seems like you know exactly whats right when its right
And in my mind I think you must stay, please stay with me
And Oh not supposed for you to wait have you wanting more I know Im love
You and all you do and I dont care why, noAnd I dont know what it is that makes me wonder
Boy I guess its everything
I look at you and it makes me wonder
Why I just like everything
Is everything you do and everything you say
Its like I cannot find anything that aint right
They say it must be something but I just like everythingEverything that you do, love everything that you say (Boy I guess its everything)
Love everything that you do, love everything that you say (Boy I just like everything)
Everything that you do, love everything that you say (Cannot find anything that aint right)

Love everything I should doThey say it must be something, but I just like everything
