The Audition

I'm calling all bars tonight.
Pour me a glass, but don't be cheap with the wine.
It's time to live until tomorrow ends,
Because we don't need rest,
We'll sleep when we're dead.

We don't, we don't need your issues anymore.

Let's live it up like it's our last,
'Cause there's no room for "I wish I had's."
It's time to live until tomorrow ends,
Because we don't need rest,
We'll sleep when we're dead.

We don't, we don't need your issues anymore.

Tell everyone that I said goodbye tonight,
And tip the 'tender for his generous words.

We don't, we don't need your issues anymore.
