Malice

Apparitions

I dread panic within your tight embrace
I ban the violence from my feeble frameChoose your weapon and go to war instead!Anchor me in a sea of silence
Harbor me with my restless mindI live revenge with my second skin
I feel the echo pounding in my head
I know this feeling deep within
It makes no sense to hide from what you areMalice, i dare to linger
Malice, i won't attempt to flee
Malice, just for a moment
Malice, to bundle all my ragePoorly gifted i still try to reluct
Let me surrender my weakish sense of bliss
Kind of awkward to find this faith in you
Torn between extremes
Please meet my state of mindPlease accept my reason for being born to grant my last request
my malice never fails
