The Dawn No More Rises

Dark Funeral

When darkness is upon us, and skies had turned to black
When blood rains from darkened skies and crying angels die
When the sun has burned its last rays and light no more remains
When tears of god stains the ground the dark age has arrivedLighting strikes the realm of light
Angels burn in flames of fire
Storms from hell embrace the skies
As blackwinged hordes arrive
Infernal winds
Come forth from the byss
Satan rides the winds of wrath
Across the blackened skyThe dawn no more rises
Across the darkened horizons
Light no more shines
Over the kingdom of damnationWhen shadows rise upon the earh and the horned one had returned
When light has turned to darkness and heaven has been burnedLighting strikes the realm of light
Angels burn in flames of fire
Storms from hell embrace the skies
As blackwinged hordes arrive
Infernal winds
Come forth from the byss
Satan rides the winds of wrath
Across the blackened skyWhen firestorms consume the earth
And ashes is what's left
Everlasting darkness
Forever shall remain
When the sun no more rises
Over the darkened horizons
When damnation is eternal
The dark age has arrivedThe dawn no more rises
Across the darkened horizons
Light no more shines
The dark age has arrived
