

Orange Sky

Oscar and the Wolf

and it's a fun
we're hanging on
the living chains
the living on
come away with me and I drive you into the wild we'll take the blame for you don't lose a flame the sun it turns so blue the water's warm (it's nice) your beauty burns
so I will try and fail (here) and do we have a tower/ and now we're out of town to see the clouds change
And I will stare beneath/ I could stare beneath the bright orange sky
and you all control (?)/ and you're in control the silken light and you take what you want to have (/what you ... left?) what you keep inside summer skin
everything we want... /// don't lift the brakes
and we don't want to stay here give me your eyes
I'll give my heart for you
